Tshombe Okays Take-Over Of Sakania by U.N. Troops

ELISABETHVILLE, Katanga (AP)—With his army disintegrating and his control over Katanga shattered, President Moise Tshombe yielded a bit today to the United Nations after a brief period of house arrest.

Accompanied by a police jeep, he set out ahead of a U.N. column to urge his scattered troops not to resist a movement to Sakania, an important border point about 120 miles southeast of this Katanga capital.

In ordering his house arrest, the United Nations had demanded that the president guarantee freedom of movement through the secessionist province. Apparently he was released, however, after giving assurances only for the Sakania movement.

"I am authorized to declare," said British Consul Derek Dodson, "that President Tshombe grants to the United Nations complete freedom of movement on the road to Sakania."

Remnants of Tshombe's disorganized forces have fled to the Sakania area, a crossing point into northern Rhodesia.

Tshombe's house arrest in Elisabethville was ordered Wednesday night by U.N. Secretary-General U Thant after the Katanga leader renewed his threat to blow up the big industrial installations and hydroelectric dam at Kolwezi.

A U.N. spokesman said Tshombe was released from house arrest early today and immediately set out with a U.N. column for the towns of Kasembulesa and Sakania, southeast of Elisabethville on the border of Northern Rhodesia.

There was no immediate explanation why Tshombe and the column did not move northwest toward Kolwezi, the scene of the greatest threat from Tshombe's holdout forces.

The U.N. spokesman said the column had encountered no resistance after advancing 40 miles.

The U.N. spokesman said the operation was going according to plan.

Katanga sources said Tshombe tried to leave his presidential palace Wednesday night. U.N. Tunisian troops stopped him, enforcing the house arrest order.

It was understood Tshombe then contacted the British consul in Elisabethville and through him offered U.N. troops freedom of movement to Sakania. U.N. authorities then agreed Tshombe could go free.

Katanga sources said Tshombe declined a United Nations escort in leading the U.N. advance, and a U.N. spokesman confirmed that he was out in front of the U.N. column unescorted.

Katanga sources said a wide span bridge over the Lualaba river, 25 miles from Kolwezi, had been blown up and destroyed. The sources said it may have been blown up by accident.

A spokesman for Secretary-General U Thant issued a statement at U.N. headquarters Wednesday night demanding that Tshombe show good faith and permit peaceful entry of U.N. forces into Kolwezi, a key mining and hydroelectric center.

"Unless such proof is given," the statement said "there can no more be any question of contact with Mr. Tshombe on other matters; and therefore ONUC—U.N. Turn to TSHOMBE, Page 8

Congress Votes To Retain 15 In House Group

Kennedy Victorious In Showdown on Rules Committee

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Kennedy administration has won the first battle of the new Congress—the showdown over the House Rules Committee. But not even the victors claimed it was a major breakthrough for the President's program.

Only the tougher fights to come will show whether it was a real or hollow victory.

The tough fights were shaping up even as the Congress members were welcoming each other back to the Capitol meeting members and generally going about the task of getting back into business.

Republicans fired opening salvos at the President's estimated $99-billion budget, saying that his proposed tax cuts plus bigger spending would bring a whopping deficit.

Some of the GOP's young Turks let it be known they intend to offer alternatives to Kennedy's programs rather than just condemn them.

The first day's drama centered on the House vote of 235 to 196 to retain 15 members on the Rules Committee instead of having the total drop back down to 12 as it was before the last session.

Presumably the enlarged membership would give liberal supporters of the Kennedy program an 8-7 edge and keep the committee from falling back under conservative control.

Obviously the result pleased the President. He had contended that unless the committee was enlarged his program would be emasculated.

His aides were saving their cheers for later. One top administration leader, asked if the rules outcome meant the House would now give the Kennedy program its blessing, said bluntly: "Hell, no!"

The same rules fight was won two years ago by a narrow 217 to 212 margin under the prodding of the late House Speaker Sam Rayburn.

By passing it this time by a much safer margin, the House gave Speaker John W. McCormack, D-Mass., his biggest victory since he replaced Rayburn a year ago.

For the President however, this represented only the first of many hurdles in attempting to get Congress to approve tax cuts and revisions, federal aid to education, health care for the elderly financed through Social Security, and other proposals.

These measures all will be subject to extensive hearings and un-

Work To Commence Two Weeks After Formal Signing

State Highway Director Everett Preston yesterday awarded the contract for Salem's U. S. Route 62-West State St. grade separation project to the A. P. O'Horo Construction Co. of Youngstown, following a review of the 15 bids that had been opened Tuesday.

O'Horo's bid was $673,481.

The firm of Wanda & Mason of Worthington was believed to be low at $637,838 when bids were opened, but the State Highway Department Division 11 office at New Philadelphia explained that a "miscalculation" had caused an error in that bid. The contract then went to O'Horo, who said today that work on the Salem overpass would start within two weeks after the actual signing of the contract.

The contract letting also is subject to concurrence of the Bureau of Public Roads in Washington because federal funds are being used in the project, but highway department officials indicated this approval is expected to be a formality.

A meeting of highway department officials and the contractor to go over the project is expected to be held within 10 days.

State Takes Court Action

Meanwhile, 10 appropriation cases were filed in Common Pleas Court at Lisbon Wednesday by the Ohio State Highway Department asking the court to set up hearings to determine compensation for damages (and aerial rights) to certain properties in the area where the overpass will be located.

Twenty-three of 33 owners of property in the construction area have agreed to settlements offered by the state, and most are said to have already been paid.

The 10 appropriation cases involve seven properties, three of which are jointly owned.

Defendants in the suits are listed as:

2 Dinsio Brothers Nabbed In Theft

Two Salem area brothers, alleged members of a "million dollar burglary ring," were trapped along with a notorious Cleveland safecracker and a Pittsburgh man by Pittsburgh police who said they watched them steal $2,500 in tools Wednesday night.

Police, who had staked out an area in the vicinity of the target store, the Power Tool and Supply Co., said they observed Amil Dinsio, 28, of near Greenford, James Dinsio, 33, formerly of Franklin St. Alfred Oponowicz, 37 of Cleveland and Daniel Boscia, 49, of Pittsburgh break in through a rear door and loot the Oakland section business place.

As the men prepared to put the drills and bits in their waiting station wagon, they apparently became suspicious of lawmen in the area, police said. Leaving the tools behind, the four fled but were grabbed by radio car patrolmen within a block of the company.

SGT. JOHN F. STACK reported the men were ordered held over after a hearing in Downtown Magistrate's Court until police investigate further.

The tools, which included boxes of diamond bits, were capable of cutting through the stoutest steel, concrete and armor plate.

Amil and James Dinsio, operators of strip coal mines near Greenford and Leetonia, have been free on $2,500 bond each following their late November indictment by the Mahoning County grand jury on six counts of receiving $21,500 in stolen property.

Their brothers and partners in business, Vincent M. Dinsio, 40, of Box 179, Washingtonville, and William D. Dinsio, 36, of near

Many Nations Feel Dock Strike Effect

NEW YORK (AP)—Because of the East Coast dock strike workers at a West Germany automobile factory will get an enforced two-day vacation next week.

Fifty thousand banana farmers in Ecuador, lacking insurance on their perishable crop, half of which is sold in the United States, are threatened with ruinous losses.

A million tons of U.S. food consigned as aid to foreign nations is jammed up in nearly paralyzed ports from Maine to Texas.

Losses to the domestic economy alone are estimated at beyond $400 million, and rising $20 to $25 million a day.

These are some of the effects of the work stoppage that has tied up general cargo at 41 Atlantic and Gulf coast ports since Dec. 23.

The strike stemmed from a contract dispute between 60,000 members of the AFL-CIO International Longshoremen's Association and the New York Shipping Association, representing the shipping industry.

Alexander P. Chopin, association chairman, appraised the dollar cost domestically.

In Chicago the wholesale price of bananas jumped $1.50 a 40-pound box to $5.25. Imported phonograph record players were in short supply in New York. Dealers in imported cars ran low on, or out of, some popular models.

Chief sufferers so far have been the payroll dock and allied maritime workers, port city stores and taverns they patronize, steamship lines and import-export businesses.

No major industrial shutdowns were reported because of inability to move goods from factory sites, or store them. Many businesses

GOP May Advocate Program Changes

WASHINGTON (AP)—More of President Kennedy's legislative proposals will be met with counterproposals, rather than simply fought headon, if newly influential younger Republicans have their way.

This policy of "more alternatives" was described today by Rep. Charles E. Goodell, R-N.Y., as a principal objective of the younger Republican House members who installed Rep. Gerald R. Ford Jr. of Michigan as chairman of the House Republican Conference and increased their voting strength in the Republican Policy Committee.

Goodell, a third-term congressman, was one of the organizers of a smooth operation with the limited aim of capturing for the younger members a share in the House Republican leadership—but not its top command. Mounted in little more than a weekend, and taking the older leaders by surprise, the coup was a complete success.

Goodell talked about it in an interview, and others—including some who did not want to be quoted—contributed their versions of the group's objectives.

These included:

1. Generally shaking up the GOP House leadership, whose main figures are Rep. Charles A. Halleck Jr. of Indiana, the minority leader, and Rep. Leslie C. Arends of Illinois, the whip.
2. Making the Republican conference, the mass meeting of all

Chamber of Commerce Hears Dawson

Economist Views '63 As Top Year

The year 1963 will probably be another record-breaking year for industrial production and consumer buying, predicted James Dawson, nationally-known economist of the Cleveland National City Bank, when he spoke to the Salem Area Chamber of Commerce Tuesday.

Some 100 members and guests heard him at a luncheon meeting at the Salem Golf Club, presided over by Atty. Lozier Caplan, newly-elected president of the C. of C.

Dawson based his forecast on a continuing economic spiral which, in the past four years, has set new records, despite brief periods of recession. He said that there always are a lot of "ifs" in prognostications, but that the outlook was favored by the fact that industries' inventories relative to shipments are lower at the start of the new year than in a long time and that business has the cash to go ahead.

"If both spend, and this is what is expected, then we can look for our fifth consecutive record-breaking year," Dawson said.

He pointed out that the economy of 1962 was exactly what we had hoped for. In referring to the occasional brief periods of recession, Dawson said that modern recessions are more shallow and lack the severity of the old types.

To support his theory of a continued economic climb this year,

Fire Damages Section Of English Palace

LONDON (AP)—Fire broke out at Kensington Palace, the home of Princess Margaret, today and brought part of the roof crashing down near an apartment being prepared for her.

The princess watched firemen train hoses at the top of the palace as smoke gushed from upper story windows.

The blaze started in the palace rafters near the 20-room apartment being prepared for the princess and her husband, Antony Armstrong-Jones. When it broke out, Margaret was in her present quarters at the other end of the palace.

London Fire Brigade sent 15 fire trucks to the blaze after an alarm was sounded by a palace painter. It took an hour to bring the flames under control.

Damage was mostly confined to a section of roof over the servants' quarters in the apartment of Princess Marina, Duchess of Kent. This adjoins the home being readied for Margaret.

Servants fled from the building as flames cracked through the roof.

Princess Marina came out with Princess Margaret to watch the fire. They were joined by Princess Alexandra and Prince Michael, Marina's son and daughter.

A fire brigade spokesman said the servants' quarters in Princess Marina's residence were badly damaged.

Magaret and Armstrong-Jones—who now bears the title Earl of Snowdon—moved into No. 10 Kensington Palace after their marriage in 1960.

The new apartment is known as No. 1A and is being remodeled at a cost of $238,000—a sum which brought growls from Laborite members in Parliament.

The Ministry of Works had hoped to have No. 1A ready in about a month's time.

Continuation Of U.S.-Soviet Talks Sought

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. officials expressed hope today that periodic high level talks with Soviet representatives, such as the ones now under way here, will lead eventually to a breakthrough in improving East-West relations.

Major Kennedy administration hopes at the moment still center on the possibility of getting an American-British agreement with the Soviet Union for a nuclear weapons test ban. This is due in part to the belief that the widening split between the Soviet Union and Red China may influence Soviet nuclear test policy.

President Kennedy spent an hour at the White House late Wednesday with Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily V. Kuznetsov, who is scheduled to return to Moscow in a few days.

Kuznetsov meets with Secretary of State Dean Rusk today and then lunches with Rusk and other foreign policy officials at the State Department.

On leaving the White House Kuznetsov said only that he came from New York to Washington at the President's invitation and that Kennedy and he had discussed "some problems of mutual interest."

2nd Fire Reported In Empire State

NEW YORK (AP)—The second smoldering fire in as many days brought firemen to the Empire State Building today. They ripped out a section of wall in a public hallway on the 31st floor to uncover and extinguish a fire in insulation.

An attendant on the floor had found the wall hot. No one was evacuated from the building.

A series of fires Wednesday in the 102-story building—the world's tallest—burned out several offices and delayed thousands who work in the building. A carelessly thrown cigarette has tentatively blamed for the fire which spread through a utility shaft that runs the height of the building.

No injuries resulted from the blaze, during which night workers had to flee offices from as high

JFK Predicts Party Problems

Doubts 'Ticket' Voting In Congress

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—Arithmetic makes sense until humans get mixed up in it.

This is why President Kennedy, who went to Harvard, has trouble making his numbers come out right when he does his homework on Congress.

Yet if numbers mean anything—and you'd think they would in Congress—Kennedy is in pretty good shape compared with other presidents in the past 100 years.

But from the way he talks he expects rather rough going with the legislators who opened shop Wednesday even though his own Democrats are far more plentiful than Republicans.

No matter how much he adds and subtracts his problem is getting the Democrats, whose party made a lot of campaign promises in the 1960 elections, to stick together and vote as a party.

He had the same trouble doing it these past two years although the two parties were divided just about the same, with the Democrats away out in front.

In the Senate this year there are 67 Democrats and 33 Republicans, a plurality of 34 for the Democrats.

Since there are 100 seats in the Senate, the Democrats' 67 give them 67 per cent of the membership.

In the past 100 years only four other presidents—Lincoln, Johnson, Grant, and Franklin D. Roosevelt—had a higher percentage of their own party in the Senate.

The Democrats outnumber the Republicans in the House—which has 435 seats—258 to 176. There's one vacancy.

This means they have a plurality of 82 members or 59 per cent of the total membership.

Of the 19 men who have sat in the White House since 1863, including Kennedy, 10 others at least once in their presidency had a higher percentage of their own party in the House.

Those 10 were Lincoln, Johnson, Grant, Cleveland, Theodore Roosevelt, Wilson, Harding, Hoover, Franklin D. Roosevelt and Truman.

Nevertheless, although Kennedy is not as well-fixed in the House as 10 other presidents, he's better off than eight.

But all the arithmetic gets goofy because no one ever learned how to condition all the members of a president's party in Congress to shout "yes, sir," when he pushed a buzzer.

Many a president must have wondered, after seeing what happened to his programs in Congress, if anyone ever conditioned the legislators into simply saying "yes" to anything.

Kennedy's idea of conditioning Congress into happy reflex actions when he asks for something is to try flattery, persuasion, oratory and maybe a little mild arm-twisting on the legislators.

After two years of it he doesn't seem to think he's had spectacular success. Otherwise he wouldn't be telling reporters he expects to have just about the same trouble he's had these past two years.

LOVELAND, Ohio (AP)—Carl C. Hoerth Jr. has been named tax commissioner to administer Loveland's 1 per cent income tax which became effective Jan. 1.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A deposition from Arlan's Department Store, Columbus, that it doesn't plan to be open Sundays "for the indefinite future" has prompted Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy to ask Ohio Supreme Court dismissal of his suit against the company.

The suit was among a dozen he brought recently in a campaign for enforcement of the so-called blue laws.

Administrative Appointments Made By Governor

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—John M. McElroy, Roy Martin and Lewellyn A. (Jack) Coles will serve as administrative assistants to James A. Rhodes when the Republican governor-elect assumes office.

Rhodes announced their appointments Wednesday.

McElroy, 54, has been assistant chief counsel for the U.S. Senate Commerce Committee in Washington. A Columbus resident, he took leave from his federal post last July 15-Nov. 15 to serve as administrative assistant to Republican State Chairman Ray C. Bliss.

Martin, 47, of Portsmouth is a Scioto County Republican leader and insurance executive. He has served as administrative aide to the division engineer, Division 9, Department of Highways, and chief deputy to the Scioto County treasurer.

Coles 54, of Columbus is said by Rhodes to be the first Negro ever named to a governor's administrative staff in Ohio. He is a former newspaper publisher and a member of the Ohio Republican Council.

The additions and changes, made possible by the passage of a $165,000 bond issue last November, will include four new elementary and a kindergarten classroom to attach to the north side of the present building, remodeling the bleacher area of the old gym into a library, construction of storage rooms at the end of the new gym, and a new sewage disposal plant.

Bonds for the construction work were sold Dec. 27, according to Supt. Woodrow Bailey.

Also on the agenda is a discussion of the purchase of a w bus to replace an outmoded 47-passenger van.

David R. Justice who was re-elected Friday for a second term as Board president will conduct business.

E. Liverpool Soldier Caught In Bellaire

CAMBRIDGE, Ohio (AP)—Two AWOL soldiers who escaped Guernsey County Jail are back in custody following their capture in Bellaire, 50 miles east of here.

Raymond Emmmer, 23 of East Liverpool and Robert Jeffries 18 of Neffs Belmont County were picked up by Bellaire police at the homes of Jeffries' aunt and girl friend respectively. Officers had been tipped the pair were seen in town. Jeffries tried to run away but was quickly collared. Emmmer surrendered quietly.

Guernsey County officers went after them Wednesday night. They slipped out of jail here apparently through an opening used to pass food into the cells, early Wednesday.

They originally were jailed after the Ohio Highway Patrol apprehended them Saturday as wanted by the Army for being absent without leave.

Type-Casting Still Plagues Many Television Performers

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The most bitter complaint of successful television stars involves a hallowed Hollywood practice called type-casting.

Hugh O'Brien, during the last two seasons of "Wyatt Earp," worried that he would never be able to get away from a horse and six-shooter. Ann Sothern feared she was stuck for life in a comedy role of private secretary.

Raymond Burr did a few weeks of summer stock last summer, playing the lead in "Critics Choice," just to prove he was somebody besides Perry Mason.

The problem, unhappily, is not confined to those with important star names. It also afflicts a hardy, skillful and busy group of featured players. These are the television regulars who work so often that their faces are almost as familiar as those of the stars, but whose names get lost somewhere in the long lists of credits.

Such an actor is Murray Hamilton. We've all seen him many times—as a villain in "Gunsmoke," and "The Untouchables," as a psychopathic killer in Alfred Hitchcock shows, as a prosecuting attorney in "The Defenders." He's a pleasant-faced man of 38—looks younger—whose principal career problem is versatility.

"I think that's really hurting," he said. "Once a producer puts you in a role, he never seems to see you doing anything else. After

I was first cast as a heavy on

'The Untouchables,' I couldn't ever persuade them that I could also do something else. I could go on doing psychopathic killers forever for another producer."

The Doctor Says

By Dr. WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT

LE Disease Needs Good Medical Care

A disease with a big name can produce some big problems for its victims. This is lupus erythematosus — LE, for short—and should not be confused with lupus vulgaris, which is a form of skin tuberculosis.

LE, too, affects the skin but it also may affect the joints and internal organs, notably the heart and kidneys. The cause is unknown. Its red, scaly patches occur most frequently around the face and neck. They must be differentiated from the patches of some other skin diseases by a qualified specialist.

The patches are made much worse by exposure to sunlight, and must be protected from the direct rays of the sun and even from ultraviolet lamps. X-rays also aggravate the condition.

AS IS THE CASE with many other diseases, the victim may have spontaneous periods of improvement. This makes it hard to judge the value of any new form of treatment. Because involvement of the internal organs is likely to be serious, it is not wise to treat the skin eruptions intensively. All-out efforts at treatment should be reserved for the more threatening developments.

In general, three types of drug are used: salicylates, including aspirin; cortisone and related steroid hormones, and antimalarial drugs. Once a person starts treatment with any of these drugs it is usually necessary to keep it up for a long time. This exposes the victim to the dangers of undesirable side effects.

If the joints are affected, aspirin often gives great relief, but if the drug is discontinued the joint pains return. Similarly when there is marked inflammation of the skin, joints or the internal organs, treatment with hormones may cause marked improvement. In some persons the drug can be discontinued and the improvement maintained, in others the disease returns even though the patient is still taking treatment.

The use of the newer anti-malarial drugs in the treatment of LE has been hailed as a real advance. One advantage: very few side effects even with prolonged use. Good results are reported in about 80 per cent of the persons on whom this treatment has been used.

Relapses do occur, however, if the treatment is stopped. In the 20 per cent who are not benefited by antimalarial drugs alone a combination of one of these drugs with a steroid hormone is often successful.

Since lupus is a disease that may be present for many years before a diagnosis is made and since a person who has it in a mild form may, after many years, find that it is progressing to a serious stage, it is essential that such a person have expert medical guidance.

The treatment of this disease with its variable manifestations and variable final outlook cannot be expressed in an easy formula. It often taxes the ingenuity of the most skillful clinician.

We Lost the Argument Too

Everything possible will be done to build up the illusion that the United States came out ahead in the Cuban showdown. The truth is, the United States will be whistling in the dark.

Once more there has been a tardy reaction after a harsh provocation. Once more it has been shown why the side that seizes the initiative and holds it in a cold war gets the breaks and the other side does the bumbling.

The Soviet Union seized the initiative in Cuba and held it.

It moved in on what appeared to be a genuine revolution against an oppressive dictatorship that had been shored up with U.S. assistance. I snatched Cuba from under Uncle Sam's nose.

It then added injury to insult by changing Cuba into a Communist state and in turn added insult to injury by fortifying it as a Communist bastion in the New World—a studied and insolent challenge to the Monroe Doctrine.

WHEN THE U.S. reaction to this was violent, the Soviet Union scored still another cold war triumph by withdrawing missiles and bombers on its own terms and in its own time and refusing to permit inspection of Cuba to see what might have been left there.

Meanwhile, it seized President Kennedy's ill-advised offer not to invade Cuba if the missiles and bombers were withdrawn and built this into a commitment. It will do no good for the United States to explain that it despairs inspecting Cuba to find out if Russia acted in good and therefore withholds the promise not to invade Cuba.

The Logic Behind Polaris

The most significant military event of the 20th century will be, in all probability, development of the Polaris weapon.

It looms larger week by week. Prime Minister Macmillan went home from his conference with President Kennedy at Nassau with an offer that would give Britain the right to arm itself with the Polaris weapon.

President de Gaulle of France now has been given the same offer. Like Prime Minister Macmillan he must decide whether to make his country a nuclear dependent, or whether to make it a nuclear independent.

The cost of independence would be staggering. The United States already has developed Polaris weapon. There is no need for Britain and France to duplicate the cost of its development. They can use the system at no cost other than that of developing submarine fleets and purchasing Polaris missiles.

THE POLARIS WEAPON, military experts are saying, will dominate all others eventually. It has speeded up obsolescence of the missile bases the United States rushed to completion when it was trying to offset its estimates of Russian land-based capabilities.

Just as missiles foredoomed manned bombers as the key factor of modern military power, submarine missile-launching "platforms" have foredoomed land bases as the prime sources of missile capability.

Why?

It Won't Be the Last Time

The postal rate increase will be taken in stride after a few days, but this is as good a time as there ever will be to get ready for the next increase—and the one after that and the one after that.

The Post Office Department is out of harmony with the era in which it furnished an indispensable service. If auto factories, food stores and other communications systems lagged as far behind as postal operations, cars still would be out of reach of the mass market and we'd still be buying dry beans and weevily flour out of barrels.

The Post Office Department scarcely has

If it becomes necessary to invade the island to eliminate a submarine base that might be deadlier than a missile base or a bomber base, the United States would be beaten over the head with its no-invasion promise by every Latin American diplomat.

It has never been grasped by U.S. critics of United Nations intervention in the Congo that Latin Americans have strong convictions about U.S. intervention in Cuba. Latin Americans believe as firmly in self-determination for Cubans as critics of the U.N. believe in self-determination for the Congolese.

THERE HAS BEEN a reversal for the United States in Cuban policy—if the absence of a policy can be referred to as "policy."

With formal termination of discussions between Washington and Moscow in the United Nations, the issue is officially closed.

We lost the ideological issue after six decades of relations with Cuba that gave free enterprise a black eye.

We lost the military issue. Cuba is now a heavily armed offshore island manned by thousands of unfriendly troops, and this fact has not been altered an iota by a show of U.S. military strength in the Caribbean and in the air over Cuba. The Russians are still there.

And on top of everything else we lost the argument. We had to back down on the Monroe Doctrine.

There must be days in the Kremlin when Khrushchev, Mikoyan and their pals are so busy laughing they can't find time to pick out another strategic place to make Uncle Sam bleed a little.

Because more than 70 per cent of the earth's surface is covered with water.

Polaris submarines can go to every part of the earth. There is no possible way they can be pinpointed as targets for enemy missiles. They are in continuous motion, invisible and safe.

They can remain on patrol for months, compared with the few hours a heavy bomb can stay away from its base.

THE ONLY conceivable way a Polaris submarine fleet's striking power could be offset would be through development of a major navy and an equivalent number of missile-firing submarines by the Soviet Union, the only power capable of making the effort.

This is the logic behind the Polaris weapon. This is the logic the British and French must take into account as the United States tries to convince them their security would be served best by making themselves nuclear dependents, rather than to start from scratch and develop their own nuclear weapons.

The United States, Britain and France together are an insuperable naval combination. Together they never could be matched. This is the logic of the Polaris weapon. Politically, it may leave much to be desired, but security does not rely on politics.

It relies on logic—hard, inexorable military logic. And military logic favors Polaris as the prime weapon, because it is least likely to be duplicated.

sampled the possibilities of mechanization, to say nothing of automation.

This is not an abstract problem. It is concrete and it is meaningful to every user of mail service, especially large commercial users. Most of all, of course, it is important to the federal government, which is spending far too much of the people's money on a chronic postal deficit.

The motive for mechanization and automation is to bring down costs. Postal users can take rate boosts in their stride up to a certain point — and beyond that point they will be forced to look for ways to trim their costs.

Happy Legislating

By Truman Twill

There are two things I have thought I could have done with relish.

One stuns my friends when I mention it, because they do not understand the psychology involved. I would have liked to be a preacher.

My friends fail to grasp the central fact. They think only of the theology that would be mixed up in preaching, with a shudder of apprehension over the trouble that would arise about religious doctrines.

But I never have specified what kind of preaching I have in mind. For all anyone knows, I might have been the kind of preacher who holds forth on street corners in the wrong end of town. Or I might have been a Unitarian.

As it is, I became the kind of preacher who writes pieces for newspapers, on the assumption that someone will pay attention to what is said therein, which is no harder to swallow than the assumption the congregation will pay attention to a sermon.

The other thing I yearn about when reviewing the circumstances of a misspent life is that I wasn't a lawmaker.

This regret turns poignant at this time of year when the lawmakers are flocking back to the legislative chambers for another go.

The new ones are full of beans and the old ones full of caution. Between these extremes is the point on which popular government teeters—on the judgment of lawmakers wise enough to know their limitations but not cynical enough to throw in the towel.

I doubt if I would have been the author of new laws as a lawmaker. But I believe I could have been the destroyer of the kind of ill-advised, half-baked stuff that creeps into the statutes while lawmakers are looking the other way by accident or design.

It would have been fun to make a life-long study of the motives behind laws, which mostly purport to be for the purpose of doing one thing but are for the purpose of doing something else.

It would have been my privilege to proclaim motives in a loud voice, to the consternation of all.

I would have spotted sucker traps and erected warning signs.

I would have leaped at a chance to let the boys know that I knew where their extra income was coming from and whose axes were being honed on what grindstones.

There would have been real pleasure in telling pressure-bloc arm-twisters where to go and how quick.

It would have been a privilege to strike a blow in the battle between executive legislative authority and to get in a few digs at overstuffed members of the judiciary. The trouble would have been that my services would have been limited to one term, which is the reason I never became a lawmaker. There was always the question of what I'd do after voters had retired me to private life.

Good luck and happy campaigning to all lawmakers, now that the time has come to save the country again.

U.N. Mum on Soviet Occupation of Cuba

By DAVID LAWRENCE

The Soviet Union set up offensive missile bases in Cuba that threatened this country but the United Nations which piously proclaimed its self as the champion of moral force in the world, has decided not to speak, officially or otherwise, any word of condemnation of this flagrant act of

David Lawrence

Soviet aggression.

The Security Council has dropped the matter, presumably because the Soviets can veto any action taken there. Action by the General Assembly, however, is not subject to veto by any single power. Yet nothing is to be done there either about the Soviet aggression, which many people think could have brought on a world war.

President Kennedy was commended widely in the press for having influenced the Soviets to withdraw their missiles from Cuba. Nikita Khrushchev was commended by the President himself, who described as "statesman-like" the Soviet premier's decision to withdraw those missiles.

The American and Soviet representatives then took up the problem in New York at the U.N. and now have agreed to announce their abandonment of any further steps.

This leaves the Soviets with a distinct victory and the United States with a defeat and a reversal of its own historic policies. For the Soviets have exactly what they had before the missiles were sent into Cuba — plus a pledge by the President that there will be no military invasion of Cuba either to secure on-site inspection or to rid that country of the Soviet military base and 17,000 Soviet personnel.

They today occupy and control the first European colony established in the Western Hemisphere since the Monroe Doctrine was proclaimed by the president of the United States in 1823.

MR. KENNEDY, of course, has said that, if there is an attack from Cuba directed against any country in this hemisphere, the United States will feel free to invade Cuba and to take whatever measures elsewhere that it may decide are necessary. But, so far as activities confined to Cuba itself are concerned, the President has adopted a "no invasion" policy.

While he wants to see the people of Cuba liberated and hopes they will be some day, the United States is today committed against any military invasion to accomplish that purpose. Mr. Kennedy's last official statement on this point was read by him at the opening of his news conference on Nov. 20, 1962. He said:

"We will not, of course, abandon the political, economic and other efforts of this hemisphere to halt subversion from Cuba, nor our purpose and hope that the Cuban people shall some day be truly free. But these policies are very different from any intent to launch a military invasion of the island."

So the Soviet government's occupation of Cuba continues — with 17,000 Russians, mostly troops, along with defensive missiles and other weapons — while the United States makes no effort to get them out.

not been scuttled, the continued presence of any Soviet military or political forces on the island of Cuba would be considered a hostile act and subject to military action. The Monroe Doctrine banned the establishment of any European system in any country in this hemisphere. American presidents for more than a century and a half have enforced the doctrine.

THE ORGANIZATION of American States has affirmed the principles of the doctrine but, inasmuch as President Kennedy now publicly has pledged himself not to use military force to interfere with the Soviet occupation of Cuba, the other states of this hemisphere are similarly bound to do nothing. Not since the Monroe Doctrine was proclaimed has any European power successfully invaded the Western Hemisphere, set up a military base with its own troops and maintained control of the civilian government of any country, as has just happened in Cuba.

The United Nations has authorized its military forces to intervene in such situations as have arisen in the half-divided Congo, but not a single resolution condemning the Soviet aggression has even been sponsored in the United Nations by any government, including that of the United States.

Though the charter has in it many high-sounding phrases about dealing with threats against the peace of the world, the U.N. seems to have lost its vocal chords where the Soviet Union is concerned.

Praise For Service Dept.

In a recent article in your paper you praised the police department for its low fatality record in Salem since 1961. The police department deserves the commendation, but there's another department that plays a vital part. It is the city service department whose men work around the clock to keep the streets clear of ice and snow to keep traffic moving. Even the mayor helps out.

Other towns not as large as Salem have a much larger crew of workers and don't get the job done as quickly and as good as the men of our service department. These men are on call 24 hours a day and have yet to refuse to come out to work in case of snow removal or any emergency. They even helped to battle the fire that destroyed the Arrow hardware store a few years back.

These men through their efforts have helped make it possible for Salem to have a low fatality record in traffic.

Curious About 'First Baby'

I am curious about the Salem merchants' "First Baby" contest? On the front page of your paper Jan. 2 was the picture of Mrs. Robert Sudimak and her infant daughter who, as your story said, was the first baby of the new year in Salem hospitals.

Your Jan. 5 paper reported that the "First Baby" honors went to Brenda Lou Beals, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Beals of Columbiana, who was born on Jan. 2.

Will someone please explain? I am curious, as probably a lot of other people are.

Mrs. Forest Shinn,
740 Michigan Blvd.

Editor's Note: The contest rules specified by the retail merchants and printed earlier Dec. 29 declared that the parents of the first baby must be residents of the Salem trading area which, as the merchants explained, did not include Jackson Township in Mahoning County where the Robert Sudimaks reside. A list of all of the eligible townships was printed in advance.

Reuther Playing 'Union Roulette'

By VICTOR RIESEL

Red-headed Walter Reuther is all set for an attempt to repeat in the age of automation the hard-hitting unionizing campaign which rocketed him into the national headlines during the assembly-line age of 25 years ago.

He is set to pour millions of dollars into a "coordinated" organizing drive. It will be aimed at big industrial centers across the land. And it will have an 18-month deadline for action.

This being the fifth year of the space age, Reuther will specialize this time in "white collar, technical and professional" men and women who now jam-pack the modern plants.

Reuther plans to hit hardest with the most first in such areas as Houston, Dallas and Fort Worth. This will take money. But he'll have it — at least $1 million immediately from his own United Auto Workers Union.

Within a week he may raise millions more. Reuther has just summoned a war council of his old colleagues in the former CIO.

THESE MEN are the leaders of something called the Industrial Union Dept. (IUD) of the AFL-CIO. Reuther's call had the old urgent sound. It went out by telegram and was received on the morning of Jan. 4.

"Special meeting IUD Executive Committee," said the wire, "10 a.m. Tuesday, Jan. 15. Pan American Room, Statler - Hilton Hotel, Washington, D.C., to consider legislative matters and to implement organizational program adopted unanimously last meeting IUD Executive Board. Urge your attendance. Walter P. Reuther, president."

This will bring together the leaders of millions of union members. If they pledge a dollar a member to the new drive this could raise $5 - $6 million. If even half is collected, Reuther can draw several million from this meeting.

In addition the IUD itself has more than $3 million in cash in its kitty. Add to this a million from the auto union. It makes an awesome organizing total — even these days. And not to be ignored is the auto union's $47.23 million strike fund.

ACTUALLY THIS money is set aside for UAW stoppages. But Reuther's new organization drive can borrow from it, I'm informed.

Reuther will need all his old force and fury in this campaign. He's got a lot riding on it. At $5 he can't afford to launch a big city "spectacular" and see it fade away quietly like some bad B picture. It's make or break.

The pros inside labor, the veterans of the old AFL, are watching this game of union roulette. Nor are they amused. They have been telling each other recently that Reuther got them into a showcase drive in lower California. He is chairman of the AFL-CIO's Organization Committee which set it up. He prepared a long blueprint for unionization in that part of the United States. And then he left it on their doorstep, they say, and walked off to launch his own drive.

Reuther's reply simply is: Since the AFL-CIO has chosen to apply the Los Angeles concept in only one industrial area, the IUD will apply it to a number of other major industrial areas in all parts of the United States.

TO SUCCEED Reuther can't just walk into some city and set up an executive suite.

This kind of far-flung operation needs central coordination, regional headquarters, manpower, public relations men, special organizers, liaison men for contact with the national, state and local political leaders, strike centers, car pools, even relief kitchens.

Such an intricate apparatus must be based on regional councils, since it is really a network of unions converging on special targets. So, Reuther plans to set up such councils in many states. They'll be Industrial Union Councils.

His critics will say that this, in effect, will be the revival of the old CIO, inside the seven-year - old AFL-CIO. They will charge that he is launching his own labor movement.

And they may not wait long to tell it to him face to face. This probably will happen at the AFL-CIO high command mid-winter session in Florida, opening Feb. 18.

Reuther has marched up to this brink several times before. Now he'll either have to retreat permanently or go on through. But it will take a lot of broken-field running to get around the old AFL's husky safety man, George Meany.

It will be quite a game.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: This is a delicate problem and I need to know how to handle it — or should it be handled at all?

Our 12-year-old daughter is a born do-gooder — always looking for someone to help. Yesterday Mary came home from school in her room who is very nice. The new girl's father brings her to school every morning in a beat-up truck. Mary said, "Her Daddy wears overalls so I know he doesn't work in an office or anything like that."

The new girl has very bad teeth. Even the ones in front are decayed. When she smiles she always puts her hand up to her mouth which indicates she is self-conscious about it.

My husband is a dentist. Mary has asked her dad if he will fix the girl's teeth without pay. My husband said he would. Now, how do we go about it? Should I call the girl's mother? Should my daughter ask the girl directly? Or should we not get involved?—MARY'S MOTHER.

Dear Mother: Speak to the teacher. Ask her to contact the new girl's mother and give her the information. The child need not know it's "a gift." And, incidentally, you are raising an admirable daughter.

Shutter Bugged

Dear Ann: My husband is a photo nut. He spends hundreds of dollars on equipment, chemicals, paper, film, and so on. His photos are terrific, too.

My beef is this: At every family gathering (and we are a mighty gathering family) he shoots dozens of pictures. Then he slaves for hours making prints. The relatives can well afford to pay 50 cents apiece for these wonderful 5x7 and 8x10 pictures. But my hard-headed husband says, "No, I wouldn't think of charging them. I do this for fun."

Fun, my eye! He does it with money that could be better spent buying nicer clothing for his family or fixing up our house. Why should he be so balky about asking the relatives to pay for prints? I think he is a sucker. What do you think?—HYPO HARRIET, THE LENSOUND'S WIFE.

Dear Wife: The lensound sounds like a sweet guy who enjoys his hobby, so why don't you keep your nose out of his hydroquinone? If he tried to sell his pictures it would no longer be a hobby — it would be a business.

The relatives ought to buy him a little gift for his time, and trouble . . . or, better still, they should get together and buy him a BIG gift for his years of generosity.

Social Outcast

Dear Ann: Please tell me if it is socially correct for a woman to help a man put on his coat—someone who is not her husband, that is. I did this recently for a guest in our home. His wife gave me a withering look. My husband later told me I had done something equivalent to eating peas off a knife.

The next day I asked a close friend whether or not this was wrong and she said it was a bad social boner because I had put myself in a class with a servant. I am still not 100 per cent convinced. Can you settle this please?—UNCONFORTEABLE.

Dear Unconforable: Good manners is common sense and consideration for others. If you can help a man by holding his coat, I say go ahead and do it.

Days of Innocence

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Everybody is in love with his past, whether it was rich or poor.

Even a child of 10 eagerly asks a parent, "tell me how it was when I was just a baby."

As we grow older, many of us spend more time recalling the past than we do planning for the future. But your memories date you just as surely as rings of growth date a tree.

And you've been around some time now if you can remember when—

Husbands were more suspicious of the iceman than they now are of the television repair man.

The goal of every Iowa farmer was to grow enough corn so that he could retire to Southern California and listen to some really interesting evangelists.

You could get the operator on the telephone merely by lifting the receiver.

The ambition of every arriving Irishman was to get on a police force.

You could tell how new a man's shoes were by how loud they squeaked.

Hints From Heloise

By HELOISE CRUSE

Dear Ladies: A woman wrote in to us that when her washing machine and dishwasher were "overloaded" with detergents or soaps and the bubbles were coming out of every crack . . . she took a salt shaker and shook salt on top of the bubbles! She claimed that this immediately removed the excess bubbles. I filled an ordinary kitchen sink with suds and hot water, swishing my hand to make all the bubbles I could possibly get out of the detergent. Then I turned on the disposal. Naturally, all of the water drained down the disposal but . . . I was left with a sink completely full of suds.

I picked up a box of salt and gently sprinkled it over the top of the suds and immediately — if not sooner — all of the bubbles broke up.

I also tried this in my electric dishwasher. This dishwasher is one place that is the biggest mess I know of when too much detergent, or the wrong type of detergent is substituted, and it gets full of bubbles. I had my dishwasher overflow with suds completely across my kitchen floor one day. While the dishwasher had suds up to the top — and believe it, it's true — I sprinkled salt in it. The suds disintegrated. Ladies, don't forget this hint. The day will come when you will need it. Don't waste your time dipping suds from the dishwasher, removing the racks and all of the dishes. The next time it happens: Remember that box of salt!

We do not keep copies of back columns on file. Be sure to clip this hint and paste it in your cook book for further reference. And if you've got a problem, or a terrific solution of one, no matter how insignificant you think it is . . . send it to Heloise in care of this column.

But Some Nations Shun Visitors

Middle East's Spectacular Attractions Luring Tourists

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—With clattering hooves and jingling bridles horses pick their way through the twisting gorge past soaring redstone cliffs where Lawrence of Arabia once rode.

A Bedouin raiding party? Tribal sheikhs riding to a rendezvous? Jordan's desert patrol tracking down smugglers?

No. It's a party of American tourists heading for Petra, an ancient caravan city hewn from solid, rose-colored rock.

With cameras at the ready, similar tourist groups scramble up the pyramids of Egypt, paddle across the Syrian sands to Palmyra, where the Roman ruins outshine those of Rome.

Thrusting up like flowers from the deserts of the Middle East are some of the world's most spectacular tourist attractions, and more and more visitors are discovering them every year. The coming season may be the biggest yet.

"Tourists are reaching out for new places, beyond Europe, and the Middle East has a great deal to offer," says one travel expert. "It has an additional appeal as a place that not too many people have seen."

Arab governments are aware of the profits tourists can bring. But most still have much to learn about attracting visitors and looking after them once they arrive.

Iraq, with its suspicion of foreigners and cameras — taking a picture of Babylon or Baghdad requires a police permit—has wiped itself out of the tourist guidebooks. Saudi Arabia admits Moslem pilgrims to Mecca, but a Christian tourist rarely gets into the country.

Jordan, however, is conducting a sophisticated campaign to swell the stream of visitors to the Holy Land.

This year the campaign brought 210,000 tourists to Jerusalem—which is divided between Jordan and Israel — to Bethlehem, the Dead Sea and Petra. The number has more than doubled in three years.

Tourists watching the glass blowers of Hebron, swimming in the Dead Sea or strolling through Jerusalem's medieval streets can stay in new hotels and guest houses or refurbished old ones. They can speed from Christ's birthplace to a desert camp on new roads, or plunge into swimming pools in places where running water was unknown a few years ago.

Army engineers are helping restore the ruins of antiquity that litter the desert. Amman's little airport can handle the largest jets. An American public relations specialist in Beirut makes his suggestions directly to King Hussein.

Israel attracts Jewish tourists from all over the world, yet in the past three years one-third of all visitors were Christians visiting Nazareth. Tourism has been rising steadily and 185,000 visitors are expected this year to wander among biblical scenes and study the busy new life of modern Israel.

Lebanon has the historic city of Byblos, the famed cedars, the only skiing in the Middle East, Baalbeck and its festival, a Riviera-style gambling casino, excellent hotels and restaurants, beaches, scenery and climate that equal the French Riviera, but the country has done almost nothing to develop resorts to take advantage of them.

Two circles from the Women's Association of United Presbyterian Church met recently at the church.

A coverish dinner preceded the meeting of the Dorcas group. Mrs. Isabelle Seevers conducted the business meeting. Mrs. Lela McGranahan was program leader. A drama was presented by Mrs. McGranahan, Mrs. Virginia Farmer, Mrs. Martha Faloon, Mrs. Esperance Raley and Mrs. Dorothea Blanchard.

Mrs. Seevers gave a reading. Mrs. Faloon, co-leader, closed the meeting in the absence of the recently-elected leader, Mrs. Evelyn Hoffmeister, when plans were made for music to be used at the association meeting Jan. 24. The topic, "Youth," will be used.

Mrs. Esther Scott, circle leader, opened the meeting of the Bertha Wilson group. Mrs. Nova Marquis reviewed a chapter of the book, "A Call and A Promise." Program leader was Mrs.

Pearl Carle. Lunch was served by Mrs. Dora Mae Clapsaddle.

Dr. Henry J. Pelley, oldest resident of Hanoverton, will quietly observe his 98th birthday Sunday at his home. He was a general practitioner in this area since 1892 after graduation from Pittsburgh University School of Medicine.

MR. AND MRS. BRUCE PELLEY have returned home after a visit in the home of their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Myers, Jr. at St. Clairsville.

Damascus Ruritan Club Committees Are Appointed

Wade Newkirk of Chambersburg spoke on nature and conservation when he was guest speaker at the Damascus Ruritan club's first meeting of the new year Wednesday night in the Damascus Methodist Church.

Myron West was program chairman.

Club President Don Abels announced committee appointments as follows:

Salem Woman Hurt In Crash

Mrs. William Brobender of RD 4 Salem, is in fairly good condition at Salem City Hospital where she was admitted Wednesday night after her car struck a mailbox as she attempted to avoid crashing into a car discharging children. She received a possible back injury.

The Canfield post of the State Highway Patrol reported Mrs. Brobender's vehicle went off the right side of Route 165, about one mile east of Route 62, in Mahoning County and struck the mailbox at 5:05 p.m.

She swerved and lost control of her auto while trying to keep from hitting a car operated by Janice Baxter, 20, of RD 4, Salem who had stopped on the north edge of the highway to let out Peggy Warmouth 11, of RD 5, Salem, and her brother Jimmy 12. The children were uninjured.

The injured woman's daughter, Karen, 15, riding with Mrs. Brobender, escaped injury along with Katherine Johnson 10 in the Baxter auto.

adjusted to shipping and storage problems.

The day after the strike began, rail shipments of general cargo to affected ports was embargoed.

Even so, more than 14,000 rail cars clogged yards and approaches to the docks this week. Two-thirds of them were filled with grain for export elevators.

Elevators neared their working capacity of 3.9 million bushels in Philadelphia and 11.5 million bushels at New Orleans.

Oil, coal, sugar, ore and other bulk materials movements were affected little or not at all at Boston Norfolk and other ports. This type cargo is loaded and unloaded automatically — without longshoreman labor.

Despite this, about 400 ships were immobilized at pierside and harbor anchorages, one-fourth of them at New York.

Talks continue here today in efforts to settle the dispute between the dock union and the New York Shipping Association, which represents 145 shipping and stevedoring companies. Over the years, contract terms reached between the two groups here traditionally set a pattern for settlements in other ports.

Wages are a major issue in the dispute. The union is seeking a package increase of 50 cents an hour, including 26 cents in wages, over two years. The industry has offered 22 cents over two years. The prestrike basic wage averaged $3.02 an hour.

The fire marshal's office later advanced the "educated guess" that a workman's discarded cigarette fell on the felt-like covering of a cold water pipe that rises to the 85th floor through a utility shaft.

The fire apparently smoldered for hours before developing into choking curtains of smoke.

Talks

Pierre Salinger said the two men and their aides met "in a very cordial atmosphere" and reviewed the recent negotiations on the Cuban crisis which had been conducted in New York.

U.S. officials said specific subjects touched on by Kennedy or Kuznetsov included disarmament and Berlin. It was reported that Kuznetsov brought up the Berlin question, but for what purpose was not disclosed.

Kuznetsov was invited to see the President and Rusk, it is understood, primarily because U.S. leaders appreciated the diplomatic manner in which he had handled the Cuban negotiations.

2 Held to Grand Jury After Sebring Hearing

SEBRING — Two men have pleaded guilty to charges of breaking and entering before Mahoning County Court Judge John A. Reddy.

Bound over to the Mahoning County grand jury were Leslie Ormiston, 19, of North Benton R.D. 1, and Howard Mottern, 38, of Berlin Center RD 1.

Ormiston was arrested by Alliance police for the alleged Jan. 4 break-in at the M and J Auto Parts on Rt. 173. Mottern was arrested by Mahoning County Deputy Sheriff Arts Eells for an alleged break-in at the Darwin Diver home in North Benton, Jan. 4.

THE TRIAL FOR THE four brothers, who law authorities believe are members of one of the most extensive and active burglary rings in Ohio's history, has not been set, the Mahoning County Prosecutor's office reported this morning. When scheduled, the case will be heard by Judge Erskine Maiden.

Oponowicz, who at first gave Pittsburgh authorities an alias of James Mallory of Youngstown, has a criminal record dating back to 1942. He was arrested last year for an attempted burglary of the Cleveland Trust Bank. He told Pittsburgh police he was free under $25,000 cash bail in connection with the Cleveland incident.

THE CLEVELAND EX-CON- vict was successful in escaping from the Ohio State Penitentiary 10 years ago after he was sentenced to serve from 20 to 50 years for armed robbery in 1948, but his freedom lasted only a matter of hours.

The Dinsio web of burglaries, which reportedly encompasses six or seven counties adjacent to Columbiana, Mahoning, Harrison and Carroll Counties discovered stolen goods at Greenford and Leetonia mines.

Some observers have labeled the operation a "million dollar" one, although a complete evaluation of the size of the operation is currently only speculation.

MAHONING COUNTY'S claim on the four stems from the discovery at their mine near Greenford of linemen tools and wire from the Ohio Edison Co. in Alliance, an air conditioner from the Ohio Edison Co. in Warren; office furniture and other material from the Ohio Fuel Gas Co.; goods from Goshen School, and office machines belonging to the Mahoning Culvert Co. of Canfield.

Columbiana County Sheriff Russell VanFossan said this morning that this county has no claim on the Dinsios for any thefts here. He said he knew of no other burglary or other important law of offense by the Dinsios before their operations came to light last year.

certain action by originating committees before they even reach the rules group.

Coming in the forefront of them may be a bill introduced in the house Wednesday and to be offered in the Senate Monday to set up a youth conservation corps and to authorize a program of local public service works projects.

This measure, aimed at putting a minimum of 50,000 youths on the rolls at an annual cost of $3,500 each seemed calculated to raise the hackles of conservative Republicans and Democrats. It did.

"How can the President suggest adding around $175 million a year to our civilian expenditures and propose tax cuts at the same time when we may face the biggest deficit in our history?" Asked Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois.

Topics of Interest To Farmers; Notes About Meetings

WASHINGTON (AP)—An official of the European Common Market has raised the prospect that the group may be competing sharply with the United States for arm export markets within 10 years.

Vice Chairman Mansholt of the European Economic Community has said in a speech in Brussels that this area may have very embarrassing farm surpluses of its own by 1970. The common market made up of France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg.

Mansholt said European farmers likely will increase production faster than demand in the coming years, leading eventually to surpluses. He said the common market farm policies should seek to avoid such a situation by encouraging shift of manpower from the land to non-farm jobs.

U.S. officials also have been pressing the common market leaders to emphasize industrial rather than agricultural programs. These officials contend the United States and other large agricultural nations can produce food for Europe much more economically than common market nations.

Culture Department has reported red meat production during the first 11 months of 1962 totaled 25.6 billion pounds, an increase of 2 per cent over the like period of 1961.

Beef production led at 13.8 billion pounds, followed by pork at 10 billion, veal 862 million and lamb and mutton 735 million. Lard production totaled 2.2 billion pounds, a decline of one per cent.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. Weather Bureau's weekly crop bulletin said today that snow coverings generally are protecting the winter wheat crop in the central and northern Great Plains. It said another week of light to moderate rainfall further boosted small grain prospects in the southwestern two-thirds of Texas.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Foreign Agricultural Service reported today that world corn production this year is turning out to be slightly smaller than last year. Total production was estimated at 7.3 billion bushels or 100 million less than last year. Smaller harvests in the United States, Europe and the Soviet Union were partly offset by larger crops in other areas. Half of the world crop was grown in this country.

Franklin Township Fire Trustees Meet

SUMMITVILLE—Seven trustees were present at the meeting Wednesday evening of the Franklin Township Volunteer Fire Department. Ralph Cox presided.

It was announced that District 5 has not appointed a trustee to the department as yet.

A contract for fire protection for East Township has been renewed for three years, it was reported. Bills totaling $152 were paid. Because of the absence of Chief Paul Crawford, who is ill, monthly work reports were not heard.

Charles Blackburn, Paul Dowell and Roy McKarns were appointed to the ways and means committee for the coming year. Wade Clark, secretary-treasurer, reported that the books had been audited and approved.

The trustees will meet again Feb. 6 at the fire house.

$2 Tuition Boost Set At Youngstown

Tuition will be increased at Youngstown University $2 per semester hour, bringing the cost to $18 an hour, effective with the opening of the fall term Sept. 12, Dr. Howard W. Jones, president of the university, announced today.

Dr. Jones said the increase is necessary because of increased costs throughout the university. He said that every additional building creates more expense for upkeep and general expenses.

Tuition at Youngstown University after the increase will be among the lowest of the private universities in the state and even in the nation, he said.

Forged Papers Fail To Gain Freedom for Prison Inmate

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Alcatraz Warden Olin Blackwell, who uncovered a plot to free a notorious bank robber with forged documents, said Wednesday night it's possible a convict could be freed by such papers "but it's highly unlikely."

"We double check all such orders. It was last week when we got this court order setting aside a term for Roy Drake. The reference numbers to his commitment papers didn't jibe."

"So, I sent the papers back, suggesting maybe there was an error, perhaps a typographical error. But even beyond that we would have double checked had everything appeared OK."

In Washington the Justice Department said it is conducting an investigation of the plot but declined to comment on its scope.

The Indianapolis Star said the forgery of papers to set aside one of two 15-year sentences imposed on Roy Rudolph Drake, 38, of Indianapolis, in 1956 was discovered Monday as the result of Blackwell's action.

The court order setting aside the 15-year term bore the rubber-stamped signature of Federal Judge Cale J. Holder of Indianapolis.

Also termed forgeries were a cover letter to Drake explaining the order, a similar letter to Blackwell and a memorandum entry, all bearing the forged signatures of court clerk Robert G. Newbold. Newbold said a preliminary investigation had cleared members of his staff.

Had the order gone through, Drake would not have been freed but would have been made eligible for immediate parole.

"With the forgers we have nowadays," Blackwell said, "it's conceivable papers like these could be made good enough to stand up. But we check so carefully I doubt it would work."

"I don't know Drake's role in this. I do know whoever handled the paper work knew an awful lot about Drake and about his case. Everything got here almost letter perfect - through the regular mail."

Drake led a wild career of crime before he was captured in New Orleans following a pair of Indianapolis bank holdups that netted $82,500. Prior to that he broke out of California's San Quentin prison twice and once escaped a Missouri prison.

In 1943, he took part in a $100,000 holdup of the Beverly Hills, Calif. hotel.

COMMITTED TO HOSPITAL

CINCINNATI (AP) — Oscar E. Gregg, 24, one of two men charged with first-degree murder in a $70 robbery slaying, has been committed to Lima State Hospital as unfit to stand trial.

Officials said Gregg twice tried to kill himself in Hamilton County jail, the last time shortly before the sanity hearing Wednesday. John R. Blevin, 81, died May 13 from a beating given to him by Gregg and Robert W. Mayer, 22, both of Cincinnati police said.

 DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—An ordinance to prohibit distribution of so-called "Red cards" has received its first reading from the Dayton City Commission. Two more readings in successive week are required before the ordinance becomes effective.

HOOP TALK

By...Double Dribble

Greetings, friends! And a pleasant evening to you and yours! Double here with all the latest info on your favorite sport.

I'll admit this isn't news, but it's always fun to talk about the ones you won... As you no doubt know, the Indians went back to the reservation with no scalps again... which just goes to show you, history will repeat itself... the Indians gave the original Quakers a hard time, too, but they lost in the end.

As for the Orientals from Akron East... they were a little tougher, but they went back to the Rubber City with a mark on the wrong side (or the right side, depending on your point of view) of the ledger, too! Nice, huh?

And now for the big one in the Big 8... Warren's Black Panthers! Considered by many to be the toughest in the area, this team will be out to prove it tomorrow night! Warren is led by 6 foot 7 inch Jim Gardner who is averaging 28.9 points (he does this by using 9/10ths of a ball they tell me) per game. These cats are big, fast, experienced and good shooters (what else do you need?) and most of all, they want to win! This team has an 8 and 1 season record, losing only to Uniontown, Pa.'s state champs last year... Among those clawed by the Black Panthers were Massillon (name sound familiar?) and the pre-season choice for the Big 8 championship, Canton McKinley...

sound like a tough night? It will be! Go get 'em, Quakers!

And now to the following night... back from the Black Panther lair and into the Quaker gym with the Ravens! (sounds morbid, doesn't it?) Those of you who brave the icy weather Saturday night (Yes, I forecast weather, too) will be treated to a deliberate type of ball by a not so big team that has to make all their shots count. Their record at the time of this writing was 2 and 4, the wins coming over Crestwood and Maple Heights... but don't look for an easy time of it, Muscaro's boys are capable of giving the Quakers fits. Last year Salem won by only 6 points, and they were playing slow down ball that night, too.

Did you know the Quaker J.V.'s sunk 3 whole field goals the night they lost to Akron East? Talk about cold... this game must have been frigid!

How about you? Some of the people at last week's games had problems mit der ice in the parking lot... not to mention on the walks... anyone ever consider salt?

Junior High squad is flying high! Nice job, Mr. Cope... nice going, boys... Keep up the good work.

I've enjoyed most of your letters, I say most, because some of the advice would be tough to follow... If you've got something to say, I'll be glad to listen... Write Double Dribble, Post Office Box 241, Salem, Ohio... besides J.F.K. likes to see you use those 5c stamps.

Well, I really must go. I understand it may just possibly be difficult to get a seat in the Warren gym so I think I'll get in line now... see you at the game... if you get in.

3-Year Vets May Decide Salem-Harding Game Friday

Beery, Gardner Duel Is Likely

Quakers Don't Fear
Warren, Says Cabas

By MARK W. MILLER
News Sports Editor

A pair of three-year veterans may be the deciding factor as to what their respective teams do, when Salem battles Harding at Warren Friday night.

The Quakers will be led by Bill Beery, who is the number two scorer in Columbiana County with a 22-point average.

Dueling Beery for scoring honors will be the Panthers' great Jim Gardner, who has been averaging 28.7 a game.

Another important aspect about the clash is the fact that Salem will have to win in order to keep its hopes alive in the Ohio Big 8 Basketball Conference.

"In preparing for this game, Salem does not fear Warren. If our kids are right, we will win," comments Coach John Cabas.

CABAS WENT on to say, "We will have to be physically and mentally ready, and we'll be just that Friday."

The Panthers have rolled over eight Ohio opponents, three of them in Big 8 loop competition. The Panthers lead the league with their 3-0 record.

Harding's only loss this season was to defending Pennsylvania state champ Uniontown 54-48, in the holiday Christmas Tournament at Farrell, Dec. 27.

In preparing for the oncoming skirmish with the Red and Black, Coach Dick Boyd's powerful Panthers held a scrimmage with Farrell Tuesday afternoon.

DURING THAT same period, Salem held a similar drill with Youngstown Ursuline.

Coach Cabas probably will start Bob King, 6-5 senior at center, Beery, 6-1 senior, and Rich Sweitzer, 6-1 senior, share the forward posts.

A pair of scrappy guards, capable of scoring in double figures, may be the key to Salem's success. Marlin Waller is a 6-0 senior, while Rick Platt is a 5-9 senior.

Coach Boyd, who has a strong bench, will start Gardner, 6-7 senior, at center; Jim Chestnut, 6-2 senior, and Eric Snyder 6-2½ senior, at forwards; junior Mike Richetto, 5-10½, and senior Bill Mink, 5-10½, at guards.

Junior Dick Androsko, 6-½, will spell one of the forwards throughout the fray.

MASSILLON is the only common opponent Salem and Harding have met this season. The Tigers have rolled to four straight starting the streak with a 70-62 victory over the Quakers.

Harding handed Massillon its second loss of the campaign, 77-62, Dec. 15.

The Panthers have chalked up 832 points for a 66.5 average, while their opponents have tallied 438 markers for a 54.7 average. Salem has been rolling along at a 74-point-per-game clip, while its opposition has managed to rack up 454 markers or an average of 64.8.

Harding's record so far includes victories over Champion 63-49, Newton Falls 68-41, East Liverpool 79-76, Massillon 77-62, Mercer, Pa., 80-69, Canton Lehman 49-47, Canton McKinley 48-40 and Youngstown Chaney.

THE RED and Black were set back in their opener 75-49 by Columbus East, bounced back to whip Canton Timken 79-65 and were then knocked off by Massillon 70-62.

Since that second loss, Salem has posted victories over Cleveland John Adams 78-50, Akron North 89-72, Girard 90-56 and Akron East 74-66.

Salem knocked off Warren, an old tournament nemesis, last year 80-57.

Going into the half-way mark of its schedule, Salem has displayed offensive power while compiling a 5-2 record.

The Red and Black will meet Warren Harding there Friday night.

Coach John Cabas' aggregation is shooting at a 44.8 clip for seven games. Salem has attempted 457 field goals and canned 206 of the tries.

At the foul line the Quakers are doing equally well, having made 109 of 172 free throws for 63.3 per cent.

THE HOTTEST scorer on the team in field goal accuracy is senior Marlin Waller. He has tried 54 shots and swished the nets 29 times for 53.7 per cent.

Salem's leading scorer Bill Beery (154) is the most consistent foul shooter. He has made 32 of 49 from the charity circle for 65.3 per cent.

Another player who is an excellent sixth man, Dave Capel, has tossed in seven of nine foul shots for an envious 77.7 per cent.

From the field Bob King is shooting 45.2 per cent, sinking 39 of 86 tries. Rick Platt has made 50.7 per cent of his field goal attempts, hitting on 35 of 69 attempts, and Rich Sweitzer has canned 20 of 41 field goals for 48.7 per cent. Capel has made 14 of 35 for 40 per cent.

IT APPEARS as though it's not safe for anyone who coaches an NFL team. Stockholder Paul Brown, who was head coach and general manager of Cleveland, was fired Wednesday, shocking the entire football world.

Brown, who will be replaced in 10 days, left his marks in high school, college and military, as well as the pro ranks.

It is reported that Brown can stay on as a vice president of the club.

The district basketball spotlight will be focused on the Tri-County League this weekend as area high school cage squads engage in 26 contests. Sixteen clashes are on tap Friday night and another 10 on Saturday.

Lisbon's lanky Blue Devils and the powerful Clippers of Columbiana, both currently rolling along with perfect 3-0 loop standings and 6-1 season marks, clash on the county seaters' home court Saturday to decide who will emerge sole possessor of the loop's top spot.

THE TILT WILL BE a decisive one only if both teams triumph or lose their league battles Friday night.

Both teams are definite favorites in their tune-up tilts on Friday but the Lisbon squad probably has the bigger job. Columbiana will be at home to the Minerva Lions who are 1-2 in the conference and 3-4 on the season but Coach Gary Pike's Lisbon squad will be on the road at Poland battling the loop's number three team. Poland will be up for the tilt which sees them pit a 2-1, 4-3 mark against their highly-touted opponents.

COLUMBIANA IS LED by sharp-shooting Dale Murphy and Jim Ward but may have trouble trying to contain their taller hosts. Lisbon floors a team averaging well over 6-1 while the Clippers' starting quintet has trouble averaging 5-11.

Elsewhere in the area's senior circuit Friday, East Palestine will be at Louisville and the Sebring Trojans will invade Leetonia. On Saturday Poland will be at East Palestine, Leetonia will be at Minerva and Louisville will be on the road at Sebring.

GREENFORD REMAINS the top team in the Inter-County League. The Bobcats edged North Lima 62-61 Saturday for their fourth straight loop victory and sixth in seven appearances. The Bobcats are idle Friday but return to the hardwoods Saturday to entertain Lowellville in a league contest. Louisville which has just won one game in six outings will be at Pymatuning Valley Friday.

Just one contest is slated within the league Friday when North Lima and Western Reserve get together on the latter's floor. Other Saturday games are Mineral Ridge at Crestview and McDonald at North Lima.

THE JACKSON-MILTON United clash Saturday is the only Turnpike Conference action slated for this weekend.

Conference play didn't get under way until last weekend with Springfield Local copping two contests to move into first place. Jackson-Milton is in the second spot with a 1-0 mark and the other three squads — Canfield, Warren St. Mary's and United — all lost single games.

West Branch, an independent club, is attracting attention in the area, with a 6-2 season record. The Warriors' losses were to Lisbon and Alliance while they have triumphed over Greenford, Minerva, North Lima, East Palestine, Louisville and Lakeview.

SPRINGFIELD LOCAL and Canfield provide the Warriors' competition this weekend. Springfield will play host on Friday while Canfield will be at West Branch Saturday.

In other area games Friday Braceville will be at Mineral Ridge, Jackson-Milton will host Southington, Warren Harding will be host to Salem, Beaver Local will travel to Toronto, East Liverpool will entertain Steubenville, Warren St. Mary's will be at Greenville, Wells will be at Chester, W. Va., and Salineville will take on invading Newell, W. Va.

Old Dutch, Bankers Remain Unbeaten In City Cage Loop

Old Dutch and First National Bank remained unbeaten in the City Basketball League following victories at the Memorial Building Wednesday night.

Old Dutch rolled to its sixth straight win with an easy 83-50 win over the Bankers who were swept by Aldom's Dinner before triumphing 71-61.

In another clash, Coca Cola whipped Berlin Merchants 49-37. Ed Daugherty had his second straight big night as he swished the nets for 37 points, making 18 field goals and one foul shot to take scoring honors for Old Dutch.

He hit for 36 as his team trounced Coca Cola 83-52 Monday.

Old Dutch led all the way against Damascus last night with quarter scores of 17-10, 36-15 and 50-38.

Jeffy Schaffer chipped in with 14 for the winners and Bill Davidson and Dave Hiner had 10 markers each.

Chuck Brown collected 20 markers to pace Damascus, who lost for the fourth time in seven starts.

First National rallied in the fourth period to pull its clutch out of the fire. Aldom's led 18-15 at the end of the first period and held a 30-25 margin at intermission. The contest was tied 46-46 at the end of the third stanza.

Bob Hutton took scoring honors for the Bankers with 23 points. Dick Youngpeter chipped in with 16, Frank Shagnot had 13 and Bob Stallsmith made 11.

Bill Pauline paced Aldom's Diner with 20 markers. Jack Dowd chalked up 18.

Coca Cola led all the way against Berlin Merchants with period scores of 9-6, 25-10 and 34-20.

Jerry Billingsley sparked the winners with 16 points. Jerry Griner chipped in with 11. Dick Confoey collected 10 markers to pace Berlin Merchants.

Coca Cola posted its third win in seven starts, while handing Berlin its fifth setback in six tries.

Toledo Upsets BG 60-56 In MAC Game

By The Associated Press
Toledo's Rockets refused to believe it when they were written off for dead as a 1962-63 basketball threat, and today they're on top of the Mid-American Conference standings.

They won 60-56 over Bowling Green's fading Falcons Wednesday night.

The outcome on the Toledo floor gave Toledo a 3-0 conference record, a half-step ahead of Ohio University's 2-0, and dropped Bowling Green to 2-2 and a three-way third place tie with Western Michigan and Miami. The Redskins climbed to 2-2 by beating Kent 64-58 Wednesday night.

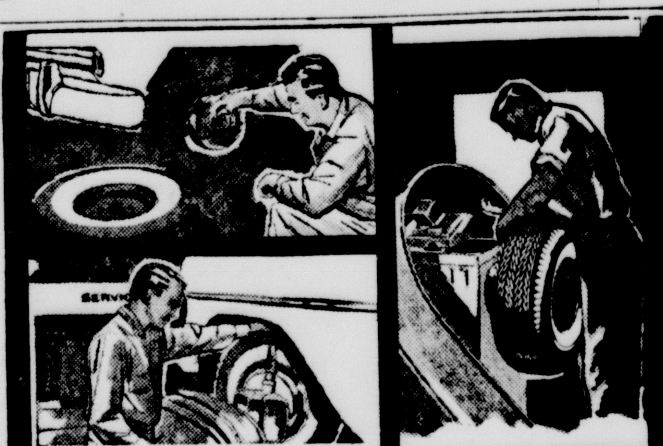

The end to Toledo's title hopes seemingly came in its very first game, a nonleague against Butler Dec. 1. Rocket ace Larry Jones, who led the club in scoring last year, scored 30 points against the Bulldogs — then suffered a broken arm late in the game.

Toledo lost four of its next eight games. But the Rockets have been clicking since MAC play commenced. They travel to Athens to meet Ohio U. Saturday night, and if they can overcome their old road hoodoo, they will be in commanding position for the MAC flag and an NCAA tournament berth.

They trailed Bowling Green 28-20 at halftime but caught up at 31-all and rode into a 60-49 lead before a too-late Falcon rally.

Cleveland Coach Paul Brown Is Fired

Ex-Mentor Can Remain As VP

Modell Will Choose New Man In 10 Days

By LARRY FRIEDMAN
CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—Paul Brown, the football master who led the professional Cleveland Browns for 17 years after gaining coaching glory at the high school and college level of the game, has been fired.

The end of a gridiron era in Cleveland came late Wednesday with an announcement from Arthur B. Modell, club president.

"Paul E. Brown, head coach and general manager of the Cleveland Browns, will no longer serve the team in those capacities. Brown will remain as a vice president. He will finish out the balance of his six-year contract at the same compensation and will continue to be a stockholder."

Brown, 54, signed an eight-year contract two years ago. He was unavailable to callers Wednesday. And there was some doubt he would remain with the National Football League club he founded in 1946.

But Modell, who hopes to name a successor within 10 days, said: "I fervently hope Paul Brown will continue his association with the Browns for a long time to come. I have every indication he will stay with us."

Modell indicated Brown's shoes would be filled by two men—one a coach and the other a general manager.

4 Men In Line For Job

"As for a coach I have four men in mind now," Modell said.

Some names that drew speculation were Tom Landry of the Dallas Cowboys; Bill Austin, an assistant with Green Bay; Ohio State's Woody Hayes and the Browns' backfield coach, Blanton Collier.

Modell said he had been thinking about removing Brown for the past three weeks. He told Brown Monday.

"It was not a pleasant thing to do," said the 39-year-old former New York advertising executive who bought the club for $4 million in March 1961.

"The only reason I will give for the change, is that I believe it will serve the best interests of the Cleveland Browns."

Modell said he had been thinking about removing Brown for the past three weeks. He told Brown Monday.

Modell said he had been thinking about removing Brown for the past three weeks. He told Brown Monday.

The name was given to the team when it first started in 1946 in the All-America Conference. The Browns won every championship in the four years that league lasted, piling up a record of 52 victories, four defeats and three ties.

In 13 NFL seasons the Browns have won seven Eastern Conference titles and three league championships.

Record Is Unmatched
Brown's 33-year coaching record is probably unmatched. It spans two seasons at Severn Prep, nine at Massillon, Ohio, High School, three at Ohio State University, two at the Great Lakes Naval Station in Chicago and the last 17 with the Browns. He won 296 games, lost 75 and had 15 ties.

It will seem strange for football fans not to see the nervous Brown pacing up and down in front of the Cleveland bench next season. His brusque manner and biting sarcasm won few friends. But he did earn grudging respect for his coaching methods—and success.

As a coach, Brown was a cool precisionist. He revolutionized many coaching ideas since copied by others in the pro ranks. A master organizer, he took movies of all games, kept exhaustive statistics on players and was the first to employ an entire coaching staff for 52 weeks and keep them all busy.

ABOUT FACES — A round about way to alter appearance is dramatically illustrated by this before-and-after study of middle-weight boxers at the Palais des Sports in Paris. Marcel Pigou, upper left, and Louis Folledo were handsome in their own way at the start, but take a gander at Folledo, lower left, and Pigou after the former had won.

Plays Method Is Copied

Brown's off-criticized method of sending in plays from the bench has been imitated in varying forms by nearly every coach in the NFL.

A fierce competitor, Brown often said he'd rather lose in a tough battle than have a push-over.

Despite frequent and growing criticism in recent years because the Browns had not been in a championship game since 1957, Brown never gave a thought to stepping down.

Strict and demanding, Brown would not tolerate what he called "boozers" or "chasers," no matter what their football ability. Many good players were discarded because of this code.

Lou Groza Is Shocked
Lou (The Toe) Groze, the great place-kicker who is the only surviving member of the original Browns, said when he heard the news:

"I'm shocked and surprise. We have had a wonderful association through the years and I have only the highest admiration for the man. He always wanted perfection. He was ahead of his time. His influence on pro football will remain for a long time."

Sophomores Dominate Cage Card; Irish Upset DePaul

By E DCORRIGAN

Associated Press Sports Writer
Notre Dame's tender sophomores may not set the basketball world on fire but they're turning into a bunch of old spoil-sports.

New Year's Eve, they knocked Illinois from the unbeaten ranks, the only blotch on the record of the 5th-ranked Illini.

Wednesday night, proud DePaul, boasting a spotless 8-0 record came into the South Bend lair of the Irish. With three sophs leading the way, the Irish pushed to a five-point half-time lead, then raced away for an 82-62 decision.

The sophs who did most of the damage were Larry Sheffield, who scored 21 points; Don Reed 17, and Walt Sahn 16.

Notre Dame Has 9-3 Mark

Notre Dame now has a 9-3 record. DePaul will have an opportunity to get even on its home court next Wednesday.

Patterson Is Set For Title Rematch

By MIKE RATHET

Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Floyd Patterson has finally called the shot on a return bout for the heavy-weight championship, but Sonny

Liston may fire another knockout punch.

That was the situation today in the off-again, on-again return battle which seemed settled Wednesday when Patterson's attorney, Julius November, announced the fight would be held in Miami Beach, Fla., April 4, under the auspices of Championship Sports Inc.

From his corner in Chicago, Liston said he knew nothing about the date and site for the return with Patterson and emphasized "they better start talking to me about this thing."

Liston's Chicago publicity chief, Ben Bentley, said the champion had not talked recently with Championship Sports, or his own adviser, Jack Nilon, about the details of a rematch.

In New York, November said the details had not all been worked out for the bout at Miami Beach's Convention Hall, but indicated the fight would be telecast to theaters around the country.

That was the setup for the first fight in which Liston hardly gave the paying customers enough time to settle back in their seats before dispatching Patterson in 2 minutes, 6 seconds of the first round at Chicago's Comiskey Park last Sept. 25.

Patterson had the contractual right to name the date, site and promoter for the rematch and did so despite the opposition of Jack Nilon, Liston's adviser, who feels April 4 is too late in the tourist season for Miami Beach.

"But," said Nilon, "if Patterson demands Miami Beach there is not much we can do about it."

Woodling Signs As Coach With New York Club

MEDINA, Ohio (AP)—Outfielder Gene Woodling, whose only interest at the moment is corrugated boxes and Appaloosa horses, denied today published reports that he has signed with the world champion New York Yankees as a batting coach.

The Long Island, N.Y., Press reported Wednesday that Woodling had obtained his unconditional release from the New York Mets and signed with the Yankees as a coach.

The 40-year-old Woodling said, "I do not have a contract with the Yankees. The only contract I have is from the Mets for 1963, which they just sent me."

Woodling said the only thing on his mind at the moment was the corrugated boxes he's selling and the Appaloosa horses he and his wife are raising and marketing in the Ohio farm country.

Edwards Is Small College Coach of Year

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Bill Edwards, coach of Wittenberg University's champion Tigers, has been named the small college football coach of the year for 1962 by the American Football Coaches Association.

The runaway winner in the major school category was John McKay of Southern California, who led his Trojans to a 10-0 season record and a 42-37 Rose Bowl victory over Wisconsin.

The Tigers of Wittenberg, with a 9-0 record, won their second straight Ohio Conference championship this past season.

Although a recipient of many other honors, Edwards said that in his 32 years of coaching "this is the highest honor I feel I have ever achieved."

Best hitting streak in the National League in 1962 was compiled by Hank Aaron of Milwaukee. He hit safely in 25 straight games during August.

The second Tuesday of each month has been designated as the meeting date for all circles.

Mrs. Donald Dawes, president, reported at the business meeting. Reports of committee chairmen were given.

Dinners scheduled to be served by the women of the church are the Lions Club, Jan. 16; the Y-Teens, Jan. 29, and the Republican County Executive Committee Lincoln Day Dinner, sometime in February.

The society has invited members of the Inez Harsden Circle as guests for a coverdish dinner at the next meeting Feb. 12. The circle will have charge of the program.

The other member besides the officers and Hicks (Disabled American Veterans) is Dr. Herbert W. Bennett of Lisbon (Spanish American Veteran).

College Entrance Test Set at Lisbon

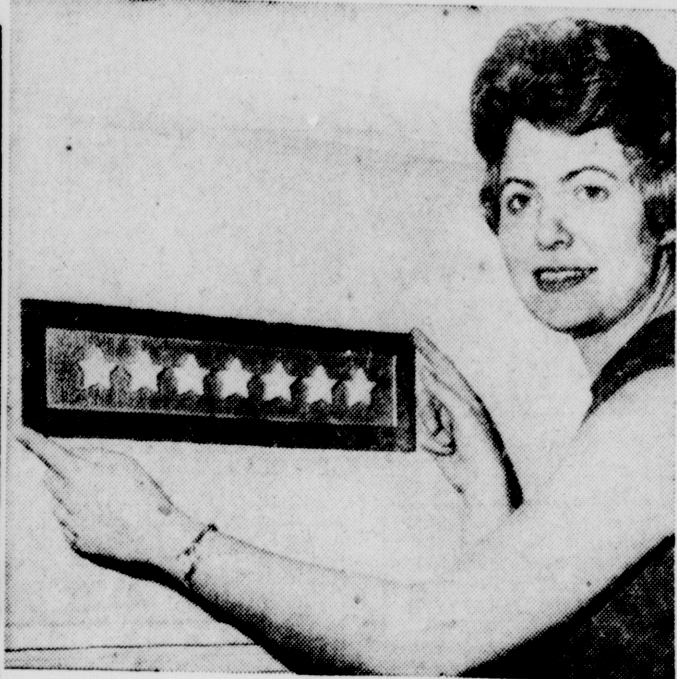

Sixty-six Columbiana County students will take the college entrance examination board test Saturday at the Lisbon High School, according to Cornell P. Monda, school psychologist who will be in charge.

Two examinations will be given, one at 8:30 a.m. and an achievement test at 1:30 p.m. Students may take one or both of the tests.

This will be the second examination given at Lisbon High School this school term. Two additional tests are scheduled March 2 and May 10, Monda said.

The Lisbon school was named as the testing center for this area in 1959 and has conducted exams each year since.

Congressional Legislation by Star Light

As 88th Congress opens, star-shaped signal lights will supplement traditional congressional bells to inform House members away from the floor of what's going on. Lights are in House and Senate wings of the Capitol; later, they'll be in Senate and House office buildings.

At left, House parliamentarian Lewis Deschler and control box, near speaker's rostrum. • At right, Carolyn West Shows a light panel. Key, from left: teller vote in committee as a whole; constitutional roll call; quorum or roll call vote in absence of quorum; adjournment; recess; (blank at present); House in session.
